More Charges Aired On Lack Of Interest By AGVA

WASHINGTON (AP) — For $30 or $40 you can buy a bottle of champagne in some Miami night clubs that sells for $2.35 in the liquor stores. If you are unlucky you may wind up like the Bronx, N.Y., contractor whose misadventures were related before the Senate Investigations subcommittee Wednesday by Daniel P. Sullivan, director of the Greater Miami Crime Commission.

Sullivan said the contractor, who wasn't named, arrived in Miami Beach a couple of years ago with $600 cash and $800 in travelers checks in his pockets. Within a few hours, after visits to two clubs, he found himself sitting in a taxicab stone broke and not knowing how he got there.

Knockout Drops

"You can sit down and in 30 minutes spend $100 and wonder what happened," said Floyd Golden, beverage board supervisor for the Florida Beverage Board, were among other witnesses at the subcommittee's hearing into allegations of collusion between the American Guild of Variety Artists—AGVA—and shady night club operators.

AGVA is the AFL-CIO union to which entertainers belong.

Sullivan testified that since World War II Miami has seen a big increase in the number of strip tease clubs that use B-girls to peddle drinks and sex.

Asserting conditions are so blatant that only a blind man could fail to see them, Sullivan said the police and AGVA officials must be aware of what is going on.

Denied By Police

In Miami, Police Chief Walter Headley said he knew nothing about Sullivan's accusations. "The B-girl situation has been whipped," Headley said. "Those places are all out of business."

Sullivan said he has seen no evidence that AGVA ever tried to enforce contract clauses against requiring girl entertainers to double as bar girls and solicit drinks.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., commented that few cities now have legalized houses of prostitution and now it has moved out into these public places of entertainment which are licensed for another purpose than what they are being used for.

Kemp also testified that a lewd situation existed in many clubs around Miami, where he said exotic strip dancers who are AGVA members solicit drinks and make improper advances to men customers.

Legend Of Jay Gould Is Revived Locally

By DON ALLEN
Daily Record Reporter

THE legend of Jay Gould and the fabulous financial empire he amassed was revived recently when Atty. Harold C. Edwards of Stroudsburg found in an old file a piece of money issued by Pratt and Gould in 1857.

Pratt and Gould—Zadock Pratt and Jay Gould—operated a tannery at Gouldsboro, Luzerne County. The note in Edwards' possession is dated Oct. 18, 1857, and pledges Pratt and Gould to pay on demand "at the Stroudsburg bank 25 cents in current bank bills when presented in sums of five dollars."

The bank was founded in 1857 and Gould was a member of its first board of directors. The note is printed on paper about the quality of newsprint and is hand numbered. The one in Edwards' possession is No. 80.

Law Suit Started

As Edwards recalls it, Pratt and Gould came to the parting of the ways—as did so many who associated with Gould—and a law suit was begun over possession of the tannery property. Gould, with typical ruthlessness, took over the tannery with employees loyal to him and what came to be known as the "buckshot war" resulted.

Incidentally, the Gouldsboro at which the tannery was located is not the community of that name as it is known today. In those days, what is now Gouldsboro was known as Sand Cut and the tan-inery site, some distance away, bore the name of Gouldsboro. A friend recently sent Edwards another bill which is a memento of this country's earlier days when restrictions on the making of currency were not as strict as they are now.

Issued By Firm

This is a $5 bill issued by the firm of Hall and Sellers of Philadelphia in 1776.

On the reverse side, the inscription states: "This bill entitles the bearer to receive five Spanish milled dollars, or the value thereof in gold or silver, according to a resolution of Congress passed at Philadelphia, July 22, 1776."

This bill contains, instead of the usual silk, some metallic substance, which appears to be silver.

OLD NOTE — This is currency issued by Pratt and Gould in 1857 which was found recently by Harold C. Edwards, Stroudsburg attorney, in an old file.

Genius is one per cent inspiration and ninety-nine per cent perspiration.

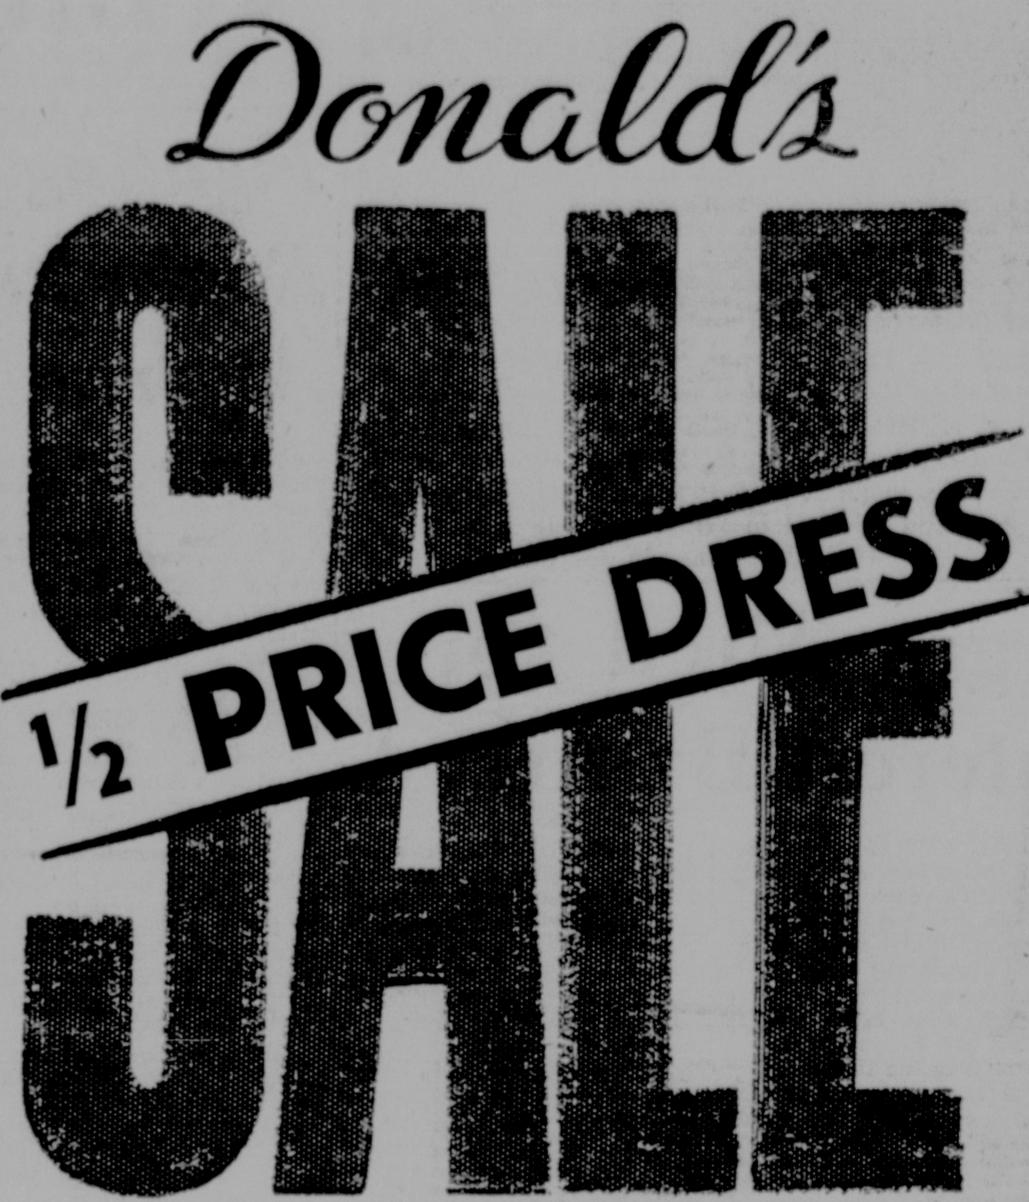

Duty is what one expects from others — it is not what one does oneself.

Few things are more dangerous than a train of thought that carries no freight.

Phone Firm Ready For Changeover

BELL Telephone Company customers with Bushkill, Cresco, Delaware Water Gap, Mt. Pocono and Stroudsburg telephones will get the new system of seven-figure telephone numbers on Sunday, July 1. E.B. Chura, local manager said yesterday.

The new numbering system will make possible many more number combinations, an important step in future telephone growth.

Extensive experiments and actual usage by telephone users in one entire city, Wichita Falls, Texas, showed the all-number calling (ANC) system to be faster and more accurate. Since the original experiment, many communities in Central Pennsylvania have received ANC.

People concentrate on numbers only when they are dialing, the studies proved. All numbers also eliminate confusion between the letter "O" and the cipher zero and between the letter "I" and the number "1" (one). Misspelling of central office names will also be eliminated.

3 Approved By Lehigh Presbytery

THREE persons were approved for ordination at a meeting of Lehigh Presbytery at First Presbyterian Church, Summit Hill, Tuesday.

Local ministers attending included Rev. Frank Wingerter, Rev. Wesley Crowther, Rev. Luther Markin, Rev. Gorman Root and Rev. John A. Boller.

Elder commissioners from Monroe County attending included Roger Dunning, Charles Balmos and C.T.J. Willis.

The request of First and Second Presbyterian Churches, Hazleton, to merge was approved as was formation of a larger parish including Freeland, Weatherly and White Haven Churches.

Drain On Gold Trending Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under Secretary of the Treasury Robert V. Roosa said Wednesday he thinks the drain on U.S. gold reserves this year will be less than one billion dollars.

He told the Senate Banking Committee that he hopes it may drop as low as $750 million, compared to about $1.2 billion in 1961 and slightly over $1.7 billion in 1960. To date this year, he said, it amounts to about $450 million.

Roosa's figures on the hoped-for reduction in the outflow of gold were coupled with testimony that the nation's balance of payments deficit is currently running at an annual rate of $1.5 billion, compared to $2.5 billion last year and $3.9 billion in 1960.

The deficit represents the amount by which expenditures in other countries, including investments, foreign aid and purchases for imports, exceed dollar receipts from abroad. The deficit adds to the potential dollar demand against the nation's gold reserves.

Roosa replied with a flat "No" when asked by Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., if he sensed "any wavering of confidence in the American dollar abroad."

Oil Imports Held Down

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — The Interstate Oil Compact Commission asked Wednesday that oil imports be held to a definite percentage of domestic crude production.

The imports resolution adopted by the final session of the compact's mid-year meeting was the strongest in the 27-year history of the 33-state oil and gas conservation study group.

No controvert developed over a statistical report on oil and gas reserves and production trends in the various states. The 11-state executive committee was instructed to continue the study next year. No effort was made to add purchaser practices to the study.

Never before has the compact called for establishment of a definite imports ratio with domestic output. No specific ratio was recommended but most recent discussions by imports opponents have centered on 14 per cent.

The resolution also said foreign oil now is supplanting domestic production. Previous resolutions merely have stated imports should supplement and not supplant domestic crude.

The 1962 annual meeting will be Dec. 10-12 in Miami Beach, Fla.

Property Transferred

A DEED transferring a property in Polk Township from Robin Hood Lake, Inc., to Robin Hood Lake Assn., Kunkletown, RD 1, was filed yesterday in the office of Mrs. Jeannette F. Batory, Monroe County register and recorder.

Up 7.6 Per Cent In Year

Area Employment Increases

EMPLOYMENT gains over the March 1962 reported period reflect an increase of approximately 885 as of mid-May, 1962, John P. Dougherty, manager of the Stroudsburg office of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service announced yesterday.

Reports from 76 of the area's largest firms reveal a total of 9,575 workers employed. While gains over the March report period are normal for this area because of wide-spread seasonal employment, it is significant that the May figure was 7.6 per cent higher than the comparable figure for one year ago.

Employment in the resorts approximated the 2,000 total for 1961, but this figure was higher than forecast due to the fact that Memorial Day occurred during mid-week, and many of the resorts postponed opening until mid-June.

This unexpected employment increase was attributable to an almost rain-free month which prompted many resorts to undertake extensive outdoor improvements and business was excellent for those already open for the season.

Chief employment gains over the 1961 figure were in construction, non-durable goods manufacturing, and in government employment.

Some manufacturing employment losses will be felt over the next two months, due to seasonal shut-downs in apparel and leather product manufacturing industries.

Short shut-downs of two to three weeks are expected in miscellaneous metal manufacturing industries for loading and inventory purposes.

Employment in resorts is expected to rise to 8,000 by the first of July, an increase of 6,000 over the May 15 figure. Some indication of improved local economic conditions over last year is reflected in the reduced number of unemployment insurance claims filed during the mid-week in May 1962 compared with May, 1961.

Labor shortages are already apparent in the following resort occupations: waiter-waitress over 21 years of age, chefs, cooks, chambermaids, and porters.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse R.S. Flory, 81 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, he is a 1957 graduate of East Stroudsburg High School and a 1961 graduate of Dickinson College in Carlisle.

State Labor Unions Assets $94,007,800

PHILADELPHIA — Assets of nearly one-hundred million dollars ($94,007,800) were held by labor unions in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania reporting to the U. S. Department of Labor in 1960.

This information was released by Frank P. Willette, area director for Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware of the Bureau of Labor-Management Reports, 227 Lafayette Building, Philadelphia, 6, Pa. These unions—local, national and other types, also reported total liabilities of $9,922,200.

These figures are contained in the publication "Union Financial Statistics" issued by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg. They are based on statistics compiled by the Bureau of Labor-Management Reports from the first year of financial reports required to be filed by most labor unions under the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act. For the most part, welfare and pension plans are not included in these statistics because these plans are usually company administered.

Three of the 21 national unions with headquarters in Pennsylvania reported having total assets varying from more than $1,000,000 to $31,000,000. Assets of locals in Pennsylvania varied, according to the report, between 43 with a total of $2,600 to 2 with a total of $2,480,000. Total assets of all local unions in Pennsylvania were $48,189,400 with liabilities of $4,186,700.

Refuse To Lift Air Suspension

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil Aeronautics Board Examiner Joseph C. Caldwell Jr. dismissed Wednesday the appeal of Imperial Airlines from an emergency suspension that followed its Richmond, Va., plane crash Nov. 8.

The Miami Springs, Fla., supplemental airline still has one more move available in its fight to retain its operating rights—an appeal to the CAB for discretionary review of the examiner's ruling.

Caldwell said notice of intent to petition for discretionary review must be filed within 10 days.

The crash, during an attempted emergency landing with two of the four airplane engines inoperative and a third faltering, was fatal to 74 Army recruits and three crew members. Two crew members, pilot and the flight engineer, survived.

Chicken Coop Gutted By Fire

A COMBINATION chicken coop and storage shed was gutted by fire at 5:55 p.m. yesterday on the farm of Robert Zellers, Cherry Valley Rd.

Brenda Besecker discovered the fire, and reported it to Mrs. Ruth Zellers, who called the Stroud Twp. fire company.

The coop was a cinder block building, 20 by 50 feet. It had a galvanized roof. Twelve chickens were lost in the blaze, as well as a garden tractor, a roto-tiller, hay and other equipment.

The fire company sent five pieces of equipment and about 45 men to the fire, according to Lester Rice, fire chief of the Stroud Twp. company.

They pumped water through 600 feet of three-inch hose from Leonard Reish's dam to the chicken coop. The blaze was extinguished and the firemen returned at 6:45 p.m.

Rice said the blaze is of undetermined origin. He estimated damages at over $2,000.

Stroud Union's History Compiled In Publication

By Jeff Cox
Daily Record Reporter

ONE OF the lines of the Stroud Union High School Alma Mater goes "Is our High School on the hill . . ."

It has been a long time since Stroudsburg High stood on the hill—the slope crested by Thomas St. and climbed by Sixth St. That is part of the history of the high school.

To document this history, the journalism class of 1961-62 of Stroud Union has compiled a book, "A History of Stroud Union High School."

The paperbound blue booklet was produced in cooperation with the Stroud Union chapter, Pennsylvania Federation of Junior Historians. It was released on June 1, and was filed with the Library of Congress.

The history is 34 pages long and covers every phase of the school's activity from sports to the faculty.

It is dedicated to the three living superintendents, Robert Brown, John S. Cartwright, and Earl F. Groner.

Thorough in its approach, it covers the history of the school from 1760 to the present, and the history of sports, clubs, class plays, Valedictorians, Salutatorians, music, the Alma Mater, faculty, yearbook dedications, class officers, class flowers, colors, and mottoes of the school.

In the actual history of the school itself, the booklet traces the development of the high school from a one room catch-all school, through its tenure as the Stroudsburg French Seminary for Girls just before the Civil War.

Construction Period

It then follows the building of the original "high school on the hill." This was at first an eight-room structure at the corner of Thomas and Sixth Sts.

Finally, after relating much detail, the pamphlet tells of the great enlargement of the school within the last ten years.

The section on sports follows the teams from their inception to the present. According to the booklet, the first Stroudsburg-Eastburg football game was dominated by Stroudsburg in 1945, 42-0. Last year, as many will remember, Eastburg did the dominating to a 45-20 tune.

In 1934, Joseph Shiffer and Forrest Haney were the student captains of the grid squad. The first coach was the late Grant Nitrauer. After Nitrauer, T. Manning (Cap) Curtis took over the team, and that was in 1935.

In 1912, Stroudsburg had its first basketball captain: William Dutson; he was followed in 1913 by Hewitt Schoonover. Frank Edinger was the first hoop coach in 1911. Grant Nitrauer and Cap Curtis also mentored the hardwood boys during the same years they coached the grididers.

The history of clubs at the school lists every club ever set up officially, and listed in school records.

The first class plays were given in 1934, when the seniors did "Easy Come, Easy Go." in 1939, the juniors tackled that extravaganza: "Around the World in 80 Days."

Teachers Listed

In the section on faculty, all the teachers who ever taught at the school since the 1930's are listed. Here is where the truth does come out. Most Stroudsburg High students, past and present, know Miss Lillian R. Stark. She has taught Latin and History at the school since . . . not to give away any secrets, let us say the mid-1930's.

The charges were aired at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Paul Messinger of Bushkill Township.

Farnack was also found guilty of disorderly conduct and sentenced to 10 days in prison on that count.

The more serious charges grew out of an incident last Saturday in which Police Chief Thomas Nottle of Bushkill Township and Chief Harvey Miller of Moore Township were involved.

The two police officers went to Farnack's home to serve a warrant issued for Farnack's arrest when he failed to appear for a hearing on the disorderly conduct charge.

He had been free on $1,200 bail after being stopped by Nottle on May 29. Nottle was injured in the ribs during an ensuing scuffle.

Farnack was in the kitchen of his home Saturday. After the two policemen had told him they had come to arrest him, Farnack grabbed a shotgun and pointed it at Nottle. Nottle jumped for the gun and pushed the barrel toward the floor as Miller drew his revolver and ordered Farnack to drop the weapon. It was loaded and the safety was off, investigation showed.

State Authority Elects Lawrence

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state Highway and Bridge Authority Wednesday re-elected Gov. Lawrence president. Other incumbent officers also were re-elected at a brief meeting.

They are: Sen. Anthony J. DiSilvestro, vice president; Internal Affairs Secretary Genevieve Blatt, secretary; Treasurer Grace Sloan, treasurer; Highways Secretary Park H. Marin, assistant treasurer, and Rep. Stephen McCann and Sen. Charles R. Weiner, asst. secretaries.

In other business, the authority approved a paid two-month leave of absence for its executive director, John J. Lynam, who said he sought the leave on the advice of his doctor.

Cuban Sugar Output Halts

HAVANA (AP)—The last of Cuba's 160 sugar mills will halt this week, bringing to an end a disappointing 1962 harvest that has yielded 4,800,000 tons of raw sugar.

The figure is approximately two million tons less than what the government announced had been produced last year.

The 1962 harvest was one of the lowest ever recorded. It was plagued by a lack of experienced cutters, drought, then heavy rains and sabotage by fire in many areas. Statistics show it is the poorest since 1956.

Yetter Task Force Opens Talks Again

THE special Task Force of the joint State-Government commission, studying the impact of tax exempt properties on local taxation, continued its series of hearings yesterday.

Monroe County's Rep. Van D. Yetter, Task Force chairman, reported that the hearings are "extremely productive, but we still have a long way to go before we will be able to make any substantial conclusions."

The Task Force is expected to make recommendations to the full commission for possible legislative action. All those appearing before the Task Force yesterday were officials of the area located around Harrisburg—an area with a heavy concentration of state-owned property.

However, one of the witnesses, Martin Steiger of the Pennsylvania local government conference, maintained that tax exemptions provided by law to utility-owned operating properties also cause an added burden on local real estate taxpayers.

Allot Increase For Dormitory

HARRISBURG (AP)—The General State Authority approved Wednesday a $400,000 increase in its $800,000 allocation for the construction of a men's dormitory at Bloomsburg State College.

The authority said it believes it would be more economical to construct a high-rise dormitory to accommodate at least 300 students rather than to provide a 200-man dormitory as originally intended.

The agency said the college's increased enrollment expectations—from 3,000 to 4,800—require the new dormitory to be constructed.

The authority also approved a $5,000 increase in its $22,500 allocation to repair the electrical system at the Berwick Armory in Columbia County.

The increase is necessary, GSA said, because of advice from the state Labor and Industry Department that certain building additions must be made to keep the project in compliance with state fire regulations.

Honesdalites Grow Beards For Fair

HONESDALE, PA. — Start growing whiskers if you plan to be in Honesdale during the Wayne County Fair Centennial which opens August 12.

Gents with clean-shaven faces may find themselves being hailed before a kangaroo court. If convicted, they'll end up in a special pokey.

It's all part of the fun being arranged to celebrate the Fair's 100th anniversary.

Thomas Howell, Honesdale hair stylist, is heading a committee arranging the beard-growing phase of the centennial.

He says that four to six weeks are required to grow a beard "heavy enough to trim and shape."

"This leaves area men plenty of time to get started," Mr. Howell noted. "We hope we'll have a good response and a lot of fun."

Meds Pay Hike Defies Lloyd

LONDON (AP) — Chancellor of the Exchequer Selwyn Lloyd's pay-freeze policy took a hard blow Tuesday when 1,800 psychiatric and hospital social workers were given a big pay rise.

The Industrial Court, an independent wage-fixing tribunal, granted a 13 per cent increase to the hospital employees in defiance of a government directive that wage rises be kept to 2½ per cent.

The kangaroo court will be complete with a judge and lawyers. Court will convene nightly along Main Street.

There's one way out and Mr. Howell hopes not too many men will avail themselves of it.

Special badges giving men the right to appear in public with clean-shaven faces will be available.

Just to prove that he's not a "do as I say, not as I do" man, Mr. Howell already has his beard growing. He plans to have it die "imperial red."

So live that you help to answer the world's problems — not add to them. —Anonymous

Nothing Like Calling Up Queen

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Joey Alford, 12, figures there's nothing wrong with a fellow picking up the phone and calling a lady friend—even if the lady friend is Queen Mother Elisabeth of Belgium.

So he called her the other day, and now she may visit his home.

Joey has won renown in the music world as a pianist, composer and conductor. About 1½ years ago, he performed at the Palace of Fine Arts in Brussels. Later he was a guest of the royal family.

Since then Joey has composed works for the queen mother, and they have exchanged notes and greetings on occasion.

A few days ago Joey read that she was visiting in Puerto Rico. Since she was that close, he decided, it would be nice to see her again.

She Answered

He got on the phone and before long the queen mother was answering from her hotel suite.

The conversation is said to have gone like this:

"I saw your picture in the papers, and I wanted to greet you and to hear your voice."

"Oh, it is so kind of you, Joey. Do you hear me?"

"Yes, yes, very well."

"And how are you, my dear Joey?"

"Very well, I am so frightened I can't seem to speak to you."

"Don't be that way."

"I have almost finished a dramatic fantasy which I have dedicated to Your Majesty. I would like so very much to see you. May I come to San Juan?"

"No, you don't have to, my dear. I am coming to New York on the 21st and I shall send you a telegram."

"Oh, that's great! Would you like to visit my home in Yonkers?"

"Yes, Joey, if I feel in condition and protocol allows."

"Do you want my address?"

"No, my dear, I have your address on my itinerary."

"I would love to have you visit."

"Thank you, thank you, my dear Joey. I will send you a telegram."

"It will be a great thrill for all of us in Yonkers."

Now the Alfidis are "slicking up" the family home—just in case.

Burlein Aide In Campaign

HARRISBURG (AP)—Lester F. Burlein of Honesdale, one of the original backers of William W. Scranton, the Republican nominee for governor, was named Wednesday by GOP state chairman George I. Bloom as the party's assistant state chairman for the 1962 campaign.

Burlein is Wayne County Republican chairman and served as regional leader in the 10-county northeastern area.

He had been mentioned as a possible candidate to succeed Bloom who was re-elected to a two-year term last Saturday without opposition.

Burlein served as assistant chairman of the Scranton-Van Zandt primary campaign committee.

Model A Fords Start For SF

NEW YORK (AP)—Hitting all four cylinders, 25 Model A Fords with old-car sentimentalists at their steering wheels set forth westward across the nation Wednesday.

If the drivers and a truckload of spare parts hold out, the motorizing group hopes to make it to San Francisco and back in a month.

This will include 10 days for a meeting of the Model A Ford Club of America in San Francisco.

As if they didn't have enough worries, the doughty automobile had trouble even getting out of New York. Their venerable vehicles caused a traffic jam in Times Square as modern motorists and sidewalk spectators paused to stare.

New York Traffic Commissioner Henry A. Barnes, who has been blowing gaskets trying to speed up city traffic, got snagged in the mess and was nearly 20 minutes late to a speaking engagement.

Equation Before Terms Drawn

By J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the European leaders with whom he is conferring this week are trying to solve an equation before all of its terms have been set up.

It is easy to say that European economic unity plus political concert equals greater strength, and that greater strength imposes greater responsibility for self-support and self-defense.

It is insufficient to say that a couple of old men clinging to nationalism are tying things up.

Europe has gone through great change since the American economic rescue squads arrived in 1948, but the change is not complete.

For instance, you have a situation in which the technique of uniting the British and Continental economies is being worked out against a background of shadowy philosophical debate over some future political union.

Assumption

You have, in some cases, an assumption by leaders that they can base today's decisions on circumstances and positions which will not exist until tomorrow, and may not take any of the forms now expected.

There is French President Charles de Gaulle's assumption that France can act now as though her return to greatness was a fact instead of a hope. That she can, for one thing, become militarily independent of the United States before the strength for it is actually in hand. That the growth in her economy required for establishment of a credible nuclear deterrent will really prove sufficient.

Europe now promises to make a much greater contribution to the strength of the West. She therefore asserts her right to a stronger voice in the whole network of its affairs. But realistically the stronger voice can become effective only when the promise has been kept, and then it will come automatically. No purpose of mutual benefit can be served by aspersiveness before the fact.

Rusk's problem is not so much to solve all the differences which arise from day to day, but to keep them from interfering with the truly fundamental goals of the alliance.

The maximum penalty is 20 years in prison and a $3,000 fine.

Pittsburgh (AP)—A young man who claimed "nothing is ever going to happen to me as long as I carry my Bible" was convicted Wednesday of entering a bank with intent of committing larceny.

Mazi Trowery, 23, of Pittsburgh's North Side was arrested in the Manchester Branch of the Mellon National Bank & Trust Co. last Sept. 2.

Trowery held his Bible throughout his trial before Judge Rabe F. Marsh.

He told the jury the following story.

Looking For Work

He was out looking for work and heard some noise in a vacant building adjoining the bank.

As he entered the building two men left but did not speak.

Once in the building he found an empty room and sat down to read his Bible. He then noticed a hole in the wall. "Out of curiosity" he went through it.

The hole led into the bank.

Police testified an alarm in a vault went off and they went to the scene. They found cash drawers ransacked, two safes overturned and burglary tools. Trowery was there too.

Judge Marsh deferred sentencing pending a report by the prosecution office.

The maximum penalty is 20 years in prison and a $3,000 fine.

Food Stamps Sell $5 Million

HARRISBURG (AP)—The General State Authority approved Wednesday the $15,500 purchase of land in Dummore, Lackawanna County, for use as a state police troop headquarters and examination point.

The six acres of land in question are commonly known as the Keystone Industrial Park, the GSA said, and is adjacent to land owned by the Commonwealth and occupied by the Department of Highways.

Construction on the site would be financed through motor license fund monies, the authority reported.

The authority also approved a $5,500 increase in its $20,000 allocation to rehabilitate the electrical system in the Carbondale Armory, Lackawanna County.

The increase was necessitated, the authority said, because the state Labor and Industry Department indicated certain building additions must be made before the system can meet Commonwealth fire regulations.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The Pennsylvania Chapter of the National Association of Postmasters elected Francis X. Walsh of Jessup president Wednesday at the conclusion of the group's annual meeting.

Some 500 delegates at the convention in Johnstown selected Walsh to succeed Stephen Bigdewic Jr. of Ellsworth. They also approved Erie as the site of next year's convention.

Bell Files For Nev. Nomination

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—Lt. Gov. Rex Bell filed yesterday for the Republican nomination for governor of Nevada.

He is not expected to have opposition.

Gov. Grant Sawyer, a Democrat who has filed for renomination, has one opponent, George Moore of Las Vegas, a political unknown, in the Sept. 4 primary. Bell, a Western movie star in the 20's, and husband of flamboyant actress Clara Bow of the 20's, wore his habitual Western suit, hat and cowboy boots to file.

Ann Cramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Cramer, of South Sterling, was an honor roll student at Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove.

Andrew Akers, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Akers, Newfoundland, was an honor roll student at Keystone Junior College, from which school he won his varsity baseball and basketball letters this year.

Jean Mary Burdick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Burdick, was elected treasurer of the English Club of Bloomsburg State College, and was also chosen to serve as proctor of Waller Hall next year.

Methodists' Young Adults Plan Event

STERLING — The Young Adults of Sterling Methodist Church met yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Strada, with Mrs. Robert Rochfort, vice president, presiding in the absence of the president, Miss Doris Bortree.

Traffic Death Rate Drops

HARRISBURG (AP) — The death rate on U.S. highways has dropped 30 per cent in the past 10 years, despite a 98 per cent increase in accident exposure, a national safety expert declared Tuesday.

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, presented the statistics in a speech to the third annual Governor's Traffic Safety Conference in Harrisburg.

Pyle, a former governor of Arizona, said the two major lags in traffic safety so far have been in the areas of vehicle inspection and driver training.

"Some 38 states have adopted uniform vehicle codes, but while driver training is up two and one-half times, it still touches less than 40 per cent of the national potential," he declared.

NEWFOUNDLAND — Thomas Peifer, Greentown, was awarded the Alumni Scholarship for the second consecutive year, at the annual meeting and banquet at Southern Wayne Joint School.

The scholarship was given jointly by the Class of 1947 and the Alumni Association, each of whom contributed $50.

Awarded the Distinguished Alumnus honor was Lt. Cmdr. Burton Gilpin, son of Mrs. Roma Gilpin, Newfoundland, now stationed in Washington, D. C.

Robert Krieger, of Greentown, was elected president of the association for 1962-63; Burton Carlton, LaAnna, was named vice president; Miss Rhonda Waltz, Honesdale, secretary; Miss Dawn Adams, South Sterling, assistant secretary; and Mrs. Liza Heberling, treasurer. They succeed Russell VanBuskirk, Jr., president for 1961-62; Mr. Krieger, who was vice president; Sophie Krummek, secretary; and Mrs. Heberling served as treasurer.

The parent company is in the process of reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws.

Sam Kagle, attorney for Frank T. Andrews, court appointed trustee of Yuba, said the Honesdale plant was purchased by Irving Fox, a New York attorney. Kagle said he did not know whether Fox was acting for another party. Fox submitted the highest of three bids.

Kagle said a group of Honesdale merchants had indicated an interest in buying the plant, but Tuesday he received a letter from the group saying they could not complete a deal.

Summer Gardening

By George Abraham

GERANIUM WOES: What causes geraniums in a porch box to start out nicely, then suddenly the buds turn brown and the stems yellow and wither? One reason for this is a disease known as botrytis blight. It causes the buds to blast, turn brown and shrivel, and it's associated with cold damp nights, as well as water on the foliage and blossoms. Another reason for shriveling and drying is poor soil mixture.

If there is no provision for drainage in the bottom of the box, water builds up around the roots, shuts off oxygen and yellowing sets in. A poor soil mixture (heavy clay, with no humus) allows for poor drainage and this invites trouble. A good soil mixture for window boxes is one-third sand, one-third peat and one-third loam. If your mixture contains more clay then the drainage is poor and plants will yellow off due to oxygen starvation.

You can tell if your soil mixture is a poor one. Does it drain off fast upon watering, or does water stand on top of the surface? If drainage is poor, dump the old mixture out and start out with a new one.

PUMPKINS AND SQUASH: Will they mix if planted in same garden? Yes, but if you don't save seed it won't harm the flavor. Varieties and strains in nearby gardens noticed the first year, but will show the following year. Here's a good tip to remember when acorn squash season comes: Steam before baking.

Do this by washing and cutting them in halves, remove seeds and stringy pulp. Put them in a steam (inside out), remove when you can stick a fork through the sides. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, stir lightly. Add butter and brown sugar and stir again, being careful not to break the shells. Place in a pan with a little water and bake in oven at 350 degs. F. for 15 minutes.

A GOOD TIP: A reader passes along a tip for using glue to stop flowers from opening fully in arrangements. She writes: "I take 2 parts of water and 1 part of any adhesive glue (used for sticking paper, wood, beads, cloth, etc.) and make a solution out of it. Then I dip flowers into this, and let it dry. It keeps the blooms nice for dried arrangements."

Green Thumb note: I have tried this and it works well on baby-breath, zinnias, marigolds, some roses and dozens of other house and outdoor plants. The glue is available in all stores, comes in white plastic containers with a spout on the end. I'd like to see our friends experiment with these new adhesive glues and tell us how you made out.

BLUEBERRIES: The only way to keep birds out of the blueberry bush is to cover with a cloth netting. It's not necessary to build a frame over the bushes, but merely spread the cloth over them. This works fine for keeping birds out of anything you grow.

PEONIES AGAIN: Is there such a thing as a male and female peony bush? No. Many gardeners believe that one reason why their bushes do not bloom is because the plants are either all male or all female, and there's nothing to this belief. Peonies refuse to bloom for other reasons.

Deep planting, too much shade, overcrowding, botrytis blight, are some factors involved in non-blooming. If your peony bush was planted 2 or 3 years ago, don't be impatient, because it takes that long, or even longer for the plant to become sufficiently established and flower. If peony eyes or shoots were covered with soil at planting time, chances are you'll never get them to bloom.

Go easy on fertilizer for peonies. Too much plant food makes lush growth and weak stems, with few or no flowers. Give the plants plenty of water during dry summers so they can build up food reserves for next year's show. If your peony bush had buds which dried up, without developing into blooms, trouble is botrytis, a disease more virulent in damp, rainy weather. Cut the stalks back this fall and give your peony bed a good housecleaning. Drench the bed with Captan or Bordeaux mixture.

Then next spring, spray again every two weeks from the time leaves start to unfold until flower buds come out. Ants, annoying, cause no direct injury, feeding on the secretions of the flower buds and aphids.

WILLOW TROUBLES: Holes in the trunk, piles of "sawdust" on the ground, sap oozing out of the holes, with ants and flies by the millions. What does all this mean to your willow? It's tell-tale evidence that you're about to engage in a borer war. It's not easy to reach borers once they are inside.

Stabbing a wire into the entrances might hit a borer, but this is difficult since the tunnels are so winding. Squirt DDT into the holes (use a water pistol) is helpful, and there is a borer paste on the market which can be

PULL OFF THE STRING-LIKE RUNNERS ON FERNS AS THESE ARE "BLIND". AS FOR PLANTS, ONE RICH IN HUMUS AND SAND MAKE THE BEST.

Question Box

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: Q. E. of East Stroudsburg: "Please tell me what's wrong with our tomato plants. The blossoms come out, then wither and drop off, leaving a cluster of stubs."

We get this question often, especially in the early part of the growing season. A lot of factors have been listed as cause and these include too much nitrogen, heavy foliage growth and irrigation, to name a few. Cornell University doubts if any of these factors is a direct cause. Large vine growth is often the result of any of poor fruit set, rather than the cause.

Young tomato fruits have a high food requirement and will drain off the reserves that go to make up new growth. In other words, after fruit has set, vine growth is usually retarded or stopped. Irrigation? Sprinkling at time of blossom drop has nothing to do with the fruit set problem.

TEMPERATURE at night and the food reserves are two of the most important factors. If night temperature goes below 59 degs. fruit set is poor. Above this you get a good set. Poor light due to cloudy weather results in low food production and thus poor fruiting. Commercial growers find in greenhouses it's almost impossible to set tomatoes during cloudy short days of late fall and early winter, regardless of temperature.

Keep in mind, too, that a tomato plant sets or produces a lot of blooms in a season and you shouldn't expect them all to produce fruit. It's not natural for a plant to set all of the flowers it produces. If you live in an area where night temperatures are apt to be low, spray the blossoms with hormones (on the market).

PEONIES AGAIN: Is there such a thing as a male and female peony bush? No. Many gardeners believe that one reason why their bushes do not bloom is because the plants are either all male or all female, and there's nothing to this belief. Peonies refuse to bloom for other reasons.

Report On The Delaware River Basin

A Daily Record Feature

Recreation Area Plans For Tocks Island Project Given

By Noah Halper

THE multi-purpose Tocks Island Development proposed by the Delaware River Basin Commission is so large that its recreation aspects alone would cost more than any other commission project now scheduled.

About $49 million is the overall estimated cost, broken down into directly and indirectly related facilities that stem from construction of a multi-purpose dam.

Generally speaking, directly related recreation, for which the Federal Government bears some part of the costs, involves facilities immediately adjacent to the water. Indirect recreation applies to those facilities such as camps, which are removed from the immediate water area and do not necessarily depend on the water for their existence.

The indirect recreation costs are estimated at $31.6 million.

Park Service Request

The National Parks Service (NPS) has spoken of Tocks Island as a National Recreation Area, the first in the northeast. The Army Engineers who planned Tocks Island incorporated the recreation features, and the Commission adopted them.

The National Parks Service said a recreation area centered at Tocks Island would draw heavily from points up to 200 miles but primarily would benefit a region from Greater New York City to Metropolitan Philadelphia. In this 100-mile radius the population is about 30 million.

In 1960, the Park Service said few, if any, regions in the United States have greater need of additional recreation land and water space. "Overcrowding and inadequate facilities have been the most often voiced complaints concerning non-urban recreation opportunity."

Udall Cites Del. River Compact

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall said Wednesday the federal government agreed to be a partner with four states in the unique Delaware River Basin Commission because it felt water development for the future is urgently needed and "something now is better than nothing."

Udall told the 82nd annual conference of the American Water Works Association the Delaware commission is "the first major new approach to river basin development organization since the creation of the Tennessee Valley Authority in the early 30's."

He noted that he had early doubts as to workability of such a plan and that the experience of Delaware, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania, partners with the United States, "will be closely watched by public administration experts, conservationists and constitutional lawyers."

"As of today," he asserted, "I will confess to a feeling of hope that this form of federal-interstate compact may prove a valuable model for use in other river basin areas throughout the nation."

Urge Strong Support

Udall pointed out, in urging strong support by the water works association of the project, that opponents of water resources planning "would rather that economic and social progress be arrested than there be an effective team of federal and state governments."

He added:

"You leaders of water industry . . . can do an inestimable service to yourselves and the country by assisting in the generation of groundswell of support sufficient in scope so that it cannot be ignored."

"I regret that this vital measure has not been accorded stronger support from its main beneficiaries, the states."

"Certain organizations that undertake to speak for certain state governments have exerted vigorous opposition to the Water Resources Planning Act, asserting that cooperative federal-state river basin planning would constitute an infringement of state rights."

Fortunately, several governors have refused to be represented by the opponents of water resources conservation and development . . .

"I am confident our nation will move ahead in river basin planning. But let me remind you that we are losing valuable time in the race against the day when water of acceptable quality will not meet the needs of a large part of our United States."

Udall said that in the past 18 months water has been started on 74 major water resources projects and on 73 small watershed programs.

Additionally, he said, an institute of water research is being established in the Interior Department and "a vastly stepped up program of research and pilot studies has been launched by the department to find means of reducing evaporation from lakes and reservoirs."

Egypt Mills Recreation Area — Below Hornbeck and across the reservoir from the northern reaches of Wallpack Bend, about 3,000 acres, ideally suited for tent camping, with eight lakes in its inland area, water-based sports, picnicking and camping.

tunities in the basin and the principal deterrents to more extensive recreation enjoyment. Boating, fishing and camping facilities are particularly large.

Commission's View

The Commission thinking regarding recreation development follows that of the Park Service and the Phase I plan assumes "project lands are planned for development as a National Recreation Area by the National Park Service."

The Commission also envisions accommodations for 6,750,000 visitors annually, but Charles R. Benninger, president of the Water Resources Association of the Delaware River Basin, says Tocks Island "would have a magnet-like attraction for those interested in camping, swimming, hunting, fishing, hiking, boating, water skiing and allied activities. We feel that the visitor figure will be doubled soon after completion."

The area is served by many major roads, and the completion of Interstate Route 80 will provide even quicker access from New York City to Stroudsburg, the junction of the Keystone Shortway across Pennsylvania.

Ten Recreation Areas

Ten major recreation areas are spoken of in the Commission report and, while not spelled out, apparently are the same as envisioned by the National Park Service and the Army Engineers.

In brief, as outlined by the Water Resources Association, they are:

On the Jersey side:

Delaware Water Gap Scenic Area — From a point seven miles below the dam to seven miles above the dam, an area of approximately 7,000 acres of which 6,200 are in the New Jersey-owned Worthington Tract. The major purpose would be scenic enjoyment, foot and bridle trails. A small section at the lower end would be in Pennsylvania.

Wallpack Bend Recreation Area — About 14,000 acres in an area starting two miles above the dam and extending north about 11 miles, considered the main recreation area, all water-based sports, picnicking and camping.

Pocono Recreation Area — With eight miles of shoreline and some 5,000 acres, at the southern end of the reservoir, the major recreation site on the Pennsylvania side, all water-based sports, camping and picnicking.

Next—Other commission projects.

— About 5,000 acres extending along six miles near the upper reaches of the reservoir, for all water-based sports, picnicking and tent and trailer grounds.

The Tom Quick Boat Launching Area — At the extreme northern end of the water supply reservoir — by Milford, Pa., and in both states, a marina, boating facilities, swimming, picnic and fishing. Approximately 400 acres.

On the Pennsylvania Side:

The Knob Recreation Area — About 650 acres immediately below Milford with seven miles of water frontage, beaches, boating facilities, picnicking, fishing and water sports.

Dingman Gorge Recreation Area

— Below Knob recreation, about 3,200 acres including Pennsylvania's George Childs State Park, a scenic area planned for all-day outings, water-based sports, picnicking and camping.

Egypt Mills Recreation Area — Below Hornbeck and across the reservoir from the northern reaches of Wallpack Bend, about 3,000 acres, ideally suited for tent camping, with eight lakes in its inland area, water-based sports, picnicking and camping.

Flatbrook Group Camping Area — About 3,000 acres adjoining the northern section of Wallpack Bend, with group camping and boating as its major features.

Mrs. Carl R. Cross

(Harter Studio)

Miss Patricia Shaw Is Bride Of Carl R. Cross

The Stroudsburg Methodist Church was the setting Saturday for the wedding of Miss Patricia Ann Shaw to Carl Robnett Cross of Abington.

Rev. Roger Stimson officiated at the 1 p. m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jansen L. Shaw, of 334 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Anthony Archer Cross, Abington.

The bride, escorted by her father, chose a full length gown of white silk organza. The fitted bodice featured a square neckline with sleeves which tapered to points at the wrists. The princess lines of the skirt were emphasized by soft pleats at the sides. Highlighting the gown were embroidered appliques of flowers.

Her fingertip veil of imported French silk illusion was held by a pillow of crushed silk organza with matching embroidered appliques. She carried a bouquet of white shasta daisies and ivy.

Mrs. Bertha Shaw, Glendale, Calif., sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown of lavender chiffon was topped with a white lace jacket which had a square neckline. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white daisies.

The bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Stratton, Bethlehem; Miss Linda Kunkle, Stroudsburg, and Miss Alma Jane Cross, Abington. They were attired in lavender chiffon gowns and carried Colonial bouquets of white daisies.

Anthony A. Cross, Jr., the bridegroom's brother, Willow Grove, served as best man. Ushers were Howard Borzell, Wayne; Edward Dubby, Abington, and Alfred Shaw, Glendale, brother of the bride.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Robert L. Wolbert played a medley of wedding melodies. Robert L. Wolbert sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Shaw chose a beige silk sheath with beige accessories.

Her apricot colored hat matched her corsage of roses which was bound by an autumn hued ribbon.

Mrs. Cross was attired in a champagne lace sheath with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. E. W. Kunkle, grandmother of the bride, wore a powder blue silk jersey dress with white accessories. Her corsage was composed of white rosebuds.

A spray of white daisies, lavender chrysanthemums and ivy flanked the five-tier wedding cake at the reception immediately following the ceremony, held at "Top O' the Fox." White columns separated each tier of the cake which was surrounded by a miniature bride and groom. The cake was baked by Mrs. Clyde White and served to the 175 guests attending the reception.

For a wedding trip to Virginia, Mrs. Cross chose a bone pure silk sheath with blue stripes. Blue accessories and a white orchid corsage completed her traveling attire.

Mrs. Cross is a 1956 graduate of Stroudsburg High School and a 1959 graduate of St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing where she is employed as a staff nurse.

Mr. Cross was graduated from Abington High School and Lehigh University. He is employed at the Wohl Shoe Company.

The couple will be at home at 211 Jona Ave., Narberth, after July 1.

Sept. 8-9 With $50,000 At Stake

Golf Series Date Set

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A "world series of golf," a super exclusive tournament matching the winners of the Masters, U.S. and British Opens and the PGA championships, will be played here Sept. 8-9 with a $50,000 first prize at stake.

Only the four players—and maybe less if there are double or triple champions—will be eligible for the 36-hole stroke play tournament at the Firestone Country Club, it was announced Wednesday. One round will be played on Saturday and the other on Sunday.

The world series will be televised (NBC) both days with the TV show beginning each day at the 13th hole and carrying on to the finish.

Second place will be worth $15,000 and third and fourth place a minimum of $5,000 each. There's a possibility the third place award may be hiked to $10,000.

Arnie Palmer, winner of the Masters, and Jack Nicklaus, who won the U.S. Open by beating Palmer in a playoff, are also qualified for the jackpot tourney. Nicklaus earned $17,500 for the Open title.

The British Open, which will supervise the tournament and also will select an alternate or alternates should any of the qualifiers win another of the titles.

The British Open, which will include both Palmer and Nicklaus in the field, will be played July 9-13 at the famous Troon course

Mick To Return To Yanks Friday

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mickey Mantle, sidelined more than a month with leg injury, will return to the New York Yankees' starting the Tigers at Detroit, Monday—Friday night against age Ralph Houk announced Wednesday night.

Houk said Mantle will play in right field, rather than his usual center field spot "because in Detroit, it's the smallest area an outfielder has to cover."

"If Mick can make it in Detroit, he'll be able to play right field in Yankee Stadium when we get home after that series," Houk said. "If he can't, well then it's anybody's guess what happens."

Alice Gray Gains Semis In Pa. Golf

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Defending champion Alice Gray of Merion Cricket Club routed Mrs. S. A. Dimond, Fox Hills Country Club, West Pittston, 7 and 5 Wednesday to reach the semifinals of the Pennsylvania Women's Golf Tournament.

Mrs. John G. Capers Jr., a clubmate of Miss Gray and titleholder in 1954 and 1960, had considerably more difficulty winning her quarterfinal match from Evelyn Smith, also of Merion, 3 and 1.

Miss Gray will meet Mrs. John Dyson, Valley Country Club, Hazleton, in Thursday's semifinal. Mrs. Dyson eliminated Mrs. W. Dale Anderson, York, 7 and 5.

Mrs. Capers' semifinal opponent will be Mrs. Harlan Semple, Allegheny Country Club, Drexel Hill, who defeated Mrs. Walter Allen, York, 3 and 2.

Mrs. Syl DeFazio, Scranton, won the 36-hole consolation medal play with 86-93—133 with a 13-stroke club handicap for each round. Mrs. John Niles, Scranton, was second with a net 154 and Mrs. A. G. Isaacs Jr., also of Scranton, third with a net 155.

Must Mold Stronger U.S., Clinic Coaches Are Urged

COACHES at the Eastern Pennsylvania Clinic were urged last night by Dr. Eugene Powers to "divorce themselves from cliches and devote their energies to setting up a philosophy to strengthen America."

Dr. Powers, head of the Department of Education at East Stroudsburg State College, told the coaches at the Penn-Stroud Hotel that they have a big responsibility in life to help a stronger United States.

Speaking at the 19th annual banquet of the clinic, Dr. Powers said the coaches should adopt four points. He listed them as philosophy, importance of winning, contribution to mental health, and the ability to teach a boy to take defeat and come back for more.

"Overcome blantant phrases," the ESSC professor warned the 155 assembled.

Dr. Powers noted that in no other field of the teaching world was there a better teacher than the coach. He pointed out that he has never seen a group who tried to better themselves than the football or basketball coaching fraternity.

He urged them to maintain a high standard of morality and stay "above reproach" at all times.

He declared that their chosen field will be only "what you want it to be."

He cited the troubles of the world and noted the problems of Russia and Red China. "God is on our side," he exclaimed. Dr. Powers reminded the coaches to keep this in mind in all of their endeavors.

Baldwin Toastmaster

That was Tommy Singleton, quarterback; Lou Muller and Kenny Wolfe, halfbacks and Bob Blanchard, fullback, stars of the unbeaten and untied 1960 Ivy League champions.

But they had been graduated the previous June and had to suffer in silence as Harvard wallowed the Blue, 27-0.

If eight start, the 46th Oaks will gross $119,125, with the winner collecting $77,431.25. Cicada's owner, Christopher T. Cheney,

Association has offered such a bonus for any filly winning the Triple Crown.

Behind Aaron's Torrid Hitting

Braves Rip Mets Twice, 9-4; 3-2

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Aaron continued his torrid hitting Wednesday as he powered the Milwaukee Braves to a double-header sweep over the New York Mets, 9-4 and 3-2. The second game was called because of rain after six innings.

Aaron was the single-handed wrecker of the Mets in the second game, smashing a pair of homers and driving in all three Milwaukee runs. The strong-wristed outfielder broke a scoreless tie in the third when he hit his 15th of the season following a walk to Eddie Matthews, then belted No. 16 his next time up, in the sixth.

Both came off loser Bill Hunter.

In the opener, Aaron teamed with ex-Met Gus Bell to lead the Braves' 15-hit attack. Aaron singled three times and knocked across three runs and Bell whacked a three-run homer, Joe Adcock also homered for Milwaukee, while Marv Throneberry and Felix Mantilla had homers for the Mets, who now have lost nine of their last 10 starts.

Tony Cloninger went the distance for the Braves in the first game, yielding 10 hits as he picked up his second victory against one loss.

Red Cross Offers Advice On Swimmers' Precautions

LIVE AND LEARN — LEARN AND LIVE!

That's the advice of your Red Cross as the warm-weather fun season gets underway in parks, pools, and lakes in the Monroe County area.

Plunging too quickly into games and sports, as well as into unknown waters, can be a painful and sometimes dangerous undertaking, says Mr. George Ockershausen, Safety Service chairman of the Monroe County Red Cross Chapter.

"The long winter layoff takes a toll in your physical condition, so don't try to break any records first day out," he said. "Most injuries at this time of year are mainly the result of overdoing — strained muscles, sprained limbs, broken bones. Work up to your peak gradually and you'll get more out of the summer. It's no fun to wear a sling or cast while everyone else is living it up."

Ockershausen also emphasized the chapter's faith in the adage "live and learn — learn and live," referring to the free classes available to all residents through the Red Cross. Qualified instruction in swimming, water safety, small craft safety, and first aid — as well as refresher courses — can go a long way toward insuring a "safe and sane summer," he said.

For information regarding date and place of specific classes, contact Monroe County Chapter ARC, Stroudsburg, Pa. HA 1-6600.

Until you are able to sign up for a class and bone up on the appropriate Red Cross textbooks, the Red Cross offers the following water safety suggestions:

1. Never swim along. The "buddy-system" is essential not only for skin and SCUBA divers, but for surface swimmers, too.

2. Swim in a safe, protected place. This refers to lifeguards on top and no rocks or other obstructions underneath.

3. Never overextend yourself — to paraphrase the Ancient Greeks: know Thyself and thy limitations. Don't swim right after eating, when overheated or overtired.

4. In case of trouble: keep calm. If you can, float face-up, keep hands under water slowly move hands and feet.

5. Safety check your boat. Be sure there is a life preserver for each passenger. Non-swimmers should wear theirs.

6. Don't overload your boat: keep at least two-thirds of the hull above water line.

7. Don't overpower your boat: a motor too powerful for the craft can make it dangerous to maneuver.

8. Keep a First Aid Kit handy — and know how to use it.

WATER SAFETY IQ

Here is a check list for the swimmer to grade himself on his proficiency in the water:

1. You are swimming in open water and get a severe cramp in your leg. You should:
 - a. Roll over to a face-down position and massage the aching part.
 - b. Swim to shore as quickly as possible.
 - c. Tread water and call for help.

2. You are out in a boat in rough water and the boat capsizes. You should:
 - a. Get away from the boat, tread water, and call for help.
 - b. Try to swim to shore.
 - c. Hang on to the boat.

3. You are swimming in heavy surf and find yourself carried out to sea. You should:
 - a. Swim toward shore at an angle.
 - b. Swim to one side and not against the current.
 - c. Stop swimming and float with the current.

2 Keep 'A' Arg. In College

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — Preempting academic honors at Dickinson College these days are John R. McClelland of Haddon Heights, N. J., and Thomas R. Stratton Jr., of Clarks Summit, Pa.

Both have maintained straight 4.0 averages for three years, the highest attainable at the college. McClelland is majoring in mathematics; Stratton in English.

The college announced Tuesday that with completion of their junior year, the two young men have won the Phi Beta Kappa, shared Dickinson's top William K. Dade Honor Award and, for the second year in a row, have been designated Sophisters, highest title a Dickinson student can attain.

Sophisters receive full tuition scholarships of $1,150.

Ginny Simms To Wed Partner

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Singer Ginny Simms will marry her business partner, attorney Don Eastvold, Friday at her home.

Eastvold, 45, is former attorney general for the state of Washington and a one-time unsuccessful candidate for governor of that state.

It will be the third marriage for Miss Simms, 43. She previously was wed to hotelman Hyatt Von Dohm and oilman Robert M. Calhoun.

A&P Enters Non-Food Discount

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Television sets will brighten the barracks of workers at government-run emergency construction projects.

The government will provide the sets and each worker will pay 3 cents a day for maintenance under an agreement between the construction workers union and the National Labor Market Board announced Tuesday.

TV Sets Put In Govt. Job

THE Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. announced at its annual stockholder's meeting yesterday that it has entered the non-food discount field.

Ralph W. Burger, chairman and president, would not elaborate on the discount operation when asked about it by a shareholder. After the meeting, however, he revealed that the company would open its first discount unit adjacent to its supermarket at Coraopolis, near Pittsburgh, about four months ago and its success will probably result in extension of similar units.

The company, the nation's largest supermarket chain, had record sales in the quarter ended May 26. Figures were not given, but they were reported 4.5 per cent above the previous peak quarterly volume and 3.5 to 4 per cent above the year-earlier level.

Burger attributed the sales performance to the introduction of trading samps. While Plain samps have been distributed by about half of its, 4,409 stores, "The promotional program already has enabled us to recapture some of the sales potential that might otherwise have been lost," he said.

Burger told shareholders that more people will be available to handle the heavier traffic in stores dispense the samps and said that one of the company's employees as invented a machine to dispense them.

102 Fatalities Over 99 Yrs. Old

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state Health Department reported yesterday that 102 of the men and women who died in Pennsylvania last year were over 99 years of age.

Statistics showed 72 of the total were females. One man and one woman were 108 years old when they died.

The causes of death included heart disease, cancer, pneumonia, influenza and accidental falls.

The 1961 figure was nine less than that of 1960 when 111 persons died after reaching 99.
